General Mark Wayne Clark
The Citadel
Charleston, South Carolina

Dear General Clark:

Mr. John Hollister has suggested that in conducting your survey of the Central Intelligence Agency, you might find it valuable to talk with certain persons within and out of government who have had considerable association with intelligence activities. I am enclosing a list of such persons. I have indicated as appropriate their past or present association with CIA, if any.

Sincerely,

C. P. Cabell
Lieutenant General, USAF
Acting Director
